Abstract

This collection covers the founding, demise and reorganization of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce from 1909-1965. In its early years, this organization of Ontario's businessmen worked for the improvement of Ontario's roads, public parks and water supply. It also pioneered steps facilitating the city's growth. From 1916 through the 1950's the Chamber sponsored the Dinner of the States which later became the All States Picnic at the "mile long" picnic table down the parkway of Euclid Ave.

The Chamber also contributed funds to build a city airport (later Ontario International Airport) but was accused by the local newspaper of serving as the vehicle for the City Council's political agenda. The Chamber wrote new By-laws in 1950, then reorganized as the Association of Merchants which later called itself the Association of Commerce and Industry, which re-emerged in 1965 as the current Chamber of Commerce. This collection is housed in 6 boxes. The first two contain by-laws, building construction notes, correspondence, meeting minutes, photos, publicity brochures and newsclippings from 1909-1935 and from 1936-1965 respectively. Boxes 3-6 are newsclipping scrapbooks from the 1936-1965 Chamber. Additional collections related to this one are the All-States Picnic and the Berger Neilson collections.
