Get a Free Irrigation Evaluation

Residents and businesses in Ontario can get a free evaluation of their outdoor landscape irrigation system. Most homes use 60-70% of their water outdoors, and 2-3 times what they need to use. Learn how you can use less, and save!

Ontario Municipal Utilities, in partnership with the Chino Basin Water Conservation District, is pleased to offer all water customers a free landscape irrigation system evaluation. This evaluation will be conducted by the Chino Basin Water Conservation District, a public California Special District, through its Landscape Evaluation and Audit Program (LEAP). LEAP uses modern measuring techniques and qualified irrigation system evaluators to provide you with a report containing the following information:

- Past water use, correct future use levels, and potential savings
- Irrigation water budget
- Recommended improvements, prioritized based on cost
- Identification of onsite concerns, with photographs
- Individualized watering schedule

The evaluation will also provide information on current rebates and incentives available for irrigation system improvements. If you would like to take advantage of this free landscape irrigation evaluation, please click here to download an application and mail or fax it completed and signed to the following address:
